Words and Music by Sylvia F. Goldstein

Based on a poem by M.D. Hughes

The raindrops fall, but leave behind
A rainbow in the sky
The flowers fade, yet seeds start to grow
We never know why

The music stops, yet it echoes on
In sweet refrains
For every joy that passes
Something beautiful remains

The tide recedes, but leaves behind
Bright seashells on the sand
The sun goes down, but gentle warmth
Still lingers on the land

The music stops, yet it echoes on
In sweet refrains
For every joy that passes
Something beautiful remains

'Though every lifetime comes to an end
Love's memory stays near
And the love we shared with family and friends
Will never disappear

For love will always and ever
Remain here.
